Poetic thoughts from an Alberta doctor

roetic tilougitts from all Alberta docto
January:
Is it real? Is it real?
Do I have it? Never have I
Been so ill. Ever.
February:
Henny Penny the sky is falling
I see it coming like a cloud
Of locusts on the prairie horizon,
Warning others, it's time to get
Your rations; They are not sure If
I've gone mad,
Neither am I.
March:
Coughing people stand too close,
Spewing droplets like glitter to hang in the air
And settle on surfaces.
A father laughs when his daughter coughs in my face,
I do not laugh in return.
Henny Penny
March Twenty, Twenty Twenty:
Everything stops.

The Physician and Family Support Program (PFSP) invites original physician poetry submissions.

We invite Alberta physicians in any career stage to send in their original poems/prose to be considered for publication in the PFSP Perspectives column in future issues of Alberta Doctors' Digest.

- Submissions (under 500 words please) can be emailed to pfsp@albertadoctors.org. Please put the phrase "poetry submission" in the subject field of the email.
- We will acknowledge receipt of your submission. If it is selected for publication, we will work with the editor of ADD to determine when it can be published.
- For further information or questions, please email pfsp@albertadoctors.org, and one of our team will get back to you.
