AMA Award for Compassionate Service

The Alberta Medical Association Award for Compassionate Service honors a physician who is an AMA member and who has demonstrated outstanding compassion, philanthropy and/or volunteerism to improve the community where he or she is giving back.

Compassionate service

For this award, compassionate service is defined as follows:

- Demonstrating a significant and extraordinary contribution to volunteer or philanthropic efforts.
- Enhancing the reputation of physicians as compassionate members of the community by giving back locally, nationally or internationally.
- Going outside of one's normal duties and practices to care for others who would otherwise not receive care or support.
