Shine A Light on a deserving colleague

They walk among us – extremely hard-working physician colleagues who epitomize what it means to practice medicine for the sake of helping people feel better, or at least doing everything possible in their power to do so.

These inspirational physicians work L-O-N-G hours; they stay current on training and education; they put others' (patients and colleagues) needs ahead of their own; they are leaders and mentors. They respect the vulnerability of their patients during difficult times, and they realize and rise to the responsibility of earning their patients' trust.
